NEW VCE PHILOSOPHY STUDENT TEXTS

VCE PHILOSOPHY

SECOND EDITION

A STUDENT TEXT FOR VCE UNITS 1 & 2

ANNA SYMES
LENNY ROBINSON-McCARTHY

590pp, 275x195mm
Available NOW!

VCE PHILOSOPHY

A STUDENT TEXT FOR VCE UNITS 3 & 4

LENNY ROBINSON-McCARTHY
ANNA SYMES

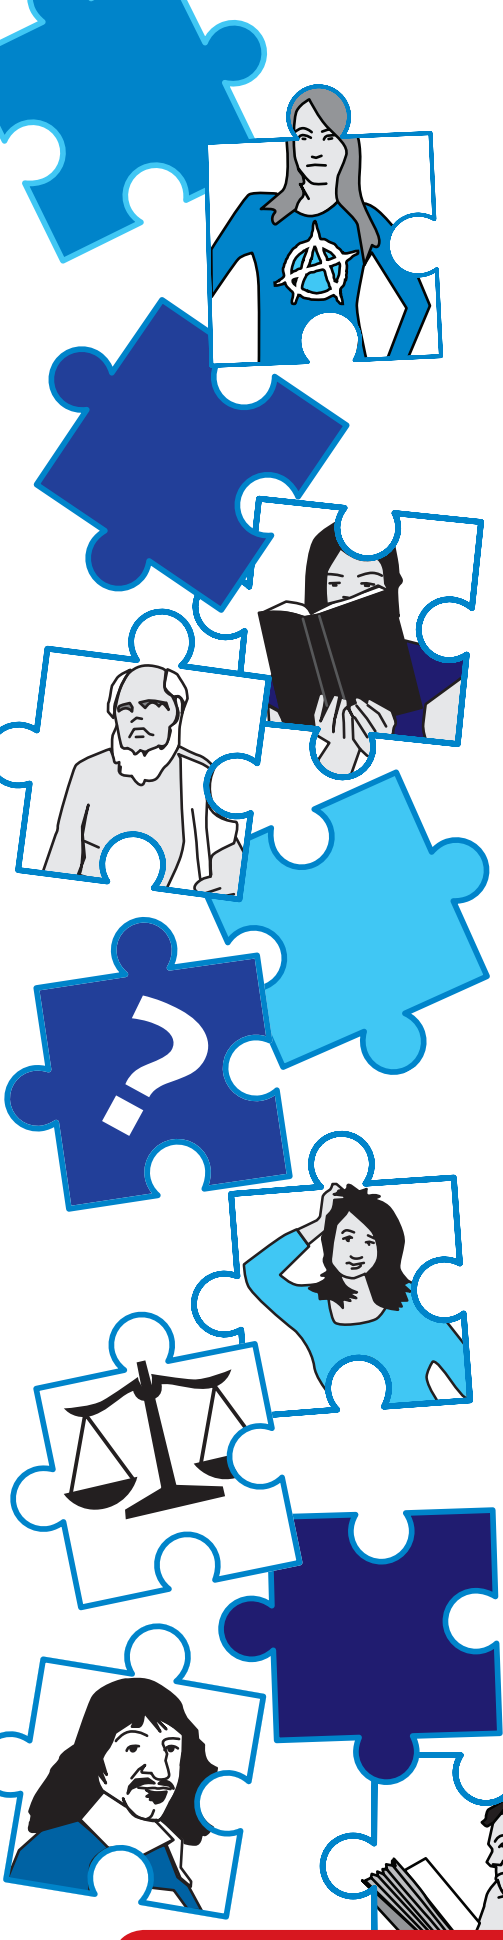

±304pp, 275x195mm
Available JAN 2014

With their lively and stimulating approach, these books are essential classroom companions and the perfect student introduction to the exciting world of philosophical inquiry.

NOW WITH MORE ACTIVITIES!

DAVID BARLOW PUBLISHING

DBPUBLISHING.NET.AU

FULLY UPDATED VCE UNITS 1 & 2

Building on the success of the first book ever written exclusively for students of VCE Philosophy, is VCE Philosophy: A Student Text for VCE Units 1 & 2. This second edition is fully updated to meet the demands of the new VCE Philosophy Study Design and includes studies of recommended texts, activities, discussion questions and ideas for assessment – everything you need to teach the new Unit 1 and 2 course successfully.

FIRST TEXTBOOK FOR VCE PHILOSOPHY UNITS 3 AND 4

In addition, we present the first textbook for VCE Philosophy Units 3 and 4. Providing detailed guidance to set texts, background and contextual material, as well as extensive activities, review questions and practical tips on preparing for assessment, this book will prove indispensable for teachers and students alike.

STUDENTS WILL ACTUALLY DO PHILOSOPHY

Drawing on decades of teaching and assessing experience, the authors invite students to actually do philosophy, while at the same time providing comprehensive grounding in all the Key Knowledge and Key Skills outlined in the latest VCE Philosophy Study Design.

CLOSE EXAMINATION OF PRIMARY TEXTS

Through a variety of engaging classroom tasks and discussion activities, students are encouraged to critically reflect on arguments and ideas, and develop skills of reasoning, analysis and evaluation. Close examination of primary texts is a strong feature of both books, reflecting the new emphasis on this aspect of Philosophy across all Units.

WEALTH OF SUGGESTIONS FOR LESSON CONTENT

Teachers will appreciate the wealth of suggestions for lesson content, assessment tasks, further resources, and advice on course design and unit planning.

NO 'ON APPROVAL' COPIES

YOU CAN VIEW SAMPLE PAGES PRIOR TO PUBLICATION AT

dbpublishing.net.au/newphilosophy

or contact the publisher at orders@dbpublishing.net.au

CONTENTS

UNITS 1 AND 2

Chapter 1 – Introduction to philosophy

- What is Philosophy? Why might we study it?
- Approaches to philosophical discussion

Chapter 2- Reasoning and logic

- Identifying arguments
- Standard form representation
- Other tools for argument
- Evaluating arguments: logical and factual assessment
- Thinking about judgments: cognitive bias
- Further tools for evaluating arguments: rhetorical ploys and fallacies

Chapter 3 – Metaphysics

- Materialism and idealism
- The material mind
- Free will and determinism
- The existence and nature of God
- Time

Chapter 4 – Epistemology

- Knowledge
- The possibility of a priori knowledge
- Science
- Objectivity

Chapter 5 – Ethics and moral philosophy

- The foundations of morality
- Moral psychology
- Right and wrong

Chapter 6 – Further problems in value theory/other forms of value

- Rights and justice
- Liberty and anarchy
- Aesthetic value
- Interpretation of art works

Chapter 7 – Advice for teaching and learning with this book

- Designing your Units 1 and 2 course
- Suggestions for student assessment

UNITS 3 AND 4

Chapter 1 – Introduction to Units 3 and 4

- A Guide to Studying Units 3 and 4 Philosophy
- What is Philosophy?
- Thinking about arguments – the basics
- Tips for studying VCE Philosophy

Chapter 2 – Minds and bodies

- Historical and philosophical background
- Key terms and concepts
- Close analysis of the set texts
- Key viewpoints and arguments in the set texts
- Critical responses to the viewpoints and arguments in the set texts
- Relevant historical and contemporary debates
- Review questions and activities

Chapter 3 – Personal identity

- Historical and philosophical background
- Key terms and concepts
- Close analysis of the set texts
- Key viewpoints and arguments in the set texts
- Critical responses to the viewpoints and arguments in the set texts
- Relevant historical and contemporary debates
- Review questions and activities

Chapter 4 – Conceptions of the good life

- Historical and philosophical background
- Key terms and concepts
- Close analysis of the set texts
- Key viewpoints and arguments in the set texts
- Critical responses to the viewpoints and arguments in the set texts
- Relevant historical and contemporary debates
- Review questions and activities

Chapter 5 – Living the good life in the 21st century

- The good life in the 21st century
- Contemporary debate: consumerism and the good life
- Contemporary debate: technology and the good life
- Contemporary debate: Our good life and the good of others
- Review questions and activities

Chapter 6 – Practical study suggestions

- Preparing for assessments
- Writing Philosophy essays

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Dr. Lenny Robinson-McCarthy (BA [hons], Dip. Ed, PhD) has taught VCE Philosophy at Preshil in Melbourne since 2001. She has also worked for the VCAA in areas relating to VCE Philosophy curriculum development and assessment and as a private tutor for students of VCE and IB Philosophy. In 2008 Lenny qualified as a Philosophy for Children educator and, under the auspices of VAPS, has designed and run workshops in Community of Inquiry for both primary and secondary school teachers. Lenny is also a published author of academic and creative works.

Anna Symes (B.A., B.Mus., Dip.Ed, Grad. Cert.Gifted Ed.) has more than 20 years of teaching experience in primary, secondary and tertiary settings. Over a decade of teaching at St Leonard's College, Melbourne, she established the school's Philosophy program and presented inservice sessions to teachers around Victoria. Anna has been a consultant to the VCAA in the development of VCE Philosophy Curriculum since 2006 and has worked on state and international examination panels since 2001. She is currently tutoring on Educational Philosophy and Psychology at the University of Melbourne.

ORDER NOW AND YOUR BOOKS WILL BE DELIVERED HOT OFF THE PRESS!

VCE Units 1&2 in NOV 2013 and VCE Units 3&4 in JAN 2014

FAX, POST OR EMAIL YOUR ORDER

TITLE	ISBN	QTY	UNIT $	PRICE
VCE Philosophy Units 1 & 2	978 1 921 333 55 2		$ 75
VCE Philosophy Units 3 & 4	978 1 921 333 35 4		$ 60
			P&H	$12.50
			TOTAL

Prices include GST and are recommended retail only and subject to change without notice.

An official ORDER NUMBER must be supplied for all school and institution orders.

Customer Name Order No

Address

P/Code

Mastercard/Visa No. |___|___|___|___| |___|___|___|___| |___|___|___|___| |___|___|___|___|

29105~1113

Expiry Signature Phone

Phone 02 6533 1810 | Fax 02 6568 3960 | orders@dbpublishing.net.au

PO Box 233, Macksville, NSW 2447

DAVID BARLOW PUBLISHING

DBPUBLISHING.NET.AU

A Division of David Barlow Investments Pty Ltd atf Barlow Family Trust | ABN 15 482 647 588